THE Saxon Troops have all left the Territory belonging to this City, except Four or Five Hundred Men which ſtill remain in the Fort of Wechſelmunde; the greateſt Part of the Ruſſian Troops have likewiſe put themſelves on the March: Some remain till the Sum ſtipulated by the Capitulation be paid by the City. On the 25th Inſtant Six Deputies from this City ſet out for Petersbourg.

Heidelberg, Aug. 31, N. S. The Imperial Army commanded by Prince Eugene, is encamped with the Right extended to Eppelheim, and the Left near to this City; where the Head Quarters are; but it is thought they cannot ſubſiſt long where they are for Want of Proviſions, and eſpecially of Forage, the whole Country having been foraged by the two Armies for above 15 Leagues round. We ſuffer extreamly in this City by the Scarcity and Dearneſs of Victuals of all Sorts; all the Vineyards in our Neighbourhood are deſtroyed by the paſſing to and fro of the Armies. The French intrench themſelves in their chief Camp at Raſtadt, but have ſeveral Bodies of Troops quartered in other Parts of the Country.
